CLEARLUNGS® CLASSIC TARGET CUSTOMER:

- ClearLungs Classic is recommended for anyone whose lungs need occasional or acute support. It's great for those who would like to experience free breathing, keep airways open, and support balanced mucus production.
- It's ideal to recommend this product for new users to assess tolerance, those with acute needs, or those who are sensitive to the potency of herbs or peppers. It is best to recommend ClearLungs Extra Strength for those who need stronger long-term support, ClearLungs Immune for those who need additional immune support, ClearLungs Sport for those who are active and seek higher endurance, and ClearLungs Liquid for those who prefer a liquid delivery format.

ClearLungs® Classic helps keep your airways open, your lungs calm, and your mucus levels balanced.

The formula is based in traditional Chinese medicine (TCM) and works by supporting circulation/heat to the lungs, which allows for open airways, cellular waste removal, and dries up extra/excessive water/mucus. In TCM, this formula also balances the gut, allowing energy to flow in the lungs.

If you're wanting to breathe deeply and stress-free, this formula will be your best friend for optimizing lung health.

LET'S TALK INGREDIENTS:

Herbs that work together

Dong Quai Root: The phytochemicals within this plant are said to help support the body in white blood cell production. Studies show it may help the body's ability to naturally dilate the bronchioles to support open airways and encourage circulation to the lungs and respiratory system. In addition, it contains small amounts of vitamins A and E, biotin, carotene, and pantothenic acid.

Chinese Asparagus Root: Commonly known as the "Queen" of herbs due to its wide range of effective properties, it is recognized as a lung tonic due to its ability to help support the body by moistening and gently cleanse the lungs and respiratory tissues.

Chinese Skullcap Root: This herb is one of the most widely-used herbs in Chinese medicine, particularly as support for the bronchioles and the larger respiratory system. Skullcap contains compounds that support a balanced inflammatory response, encourage natural immune function, and promote healthy urine flow, bile production, and more.

Ophiopogon Root: This herb helps restore the human system's essential moisture and bodily fluids. It is especially effective in bringing moisture back to the lungs and helping the body with mucus production. It has proven to be exceptional for treating external conditions that may dry and irritate the lungs, such as external environmental stresses.

Poria Fungal Body: This herb contains multiple vitamins and other nutrients essential to healthy cardiac function and blood circulation. It is used in TCM to rid the body of excess dampness. In this process, it helps balance electrolytes and revitalizes the spleen, which is responsible for storing half of the body's white blood cells (monocytes). This supports the immune system and helps it function properly.
